

I appreciate the No-Call option. It has made my home time much more enjoyable. I dreaded answering the telephone fearing that it was a telemarketer. Why do they always call when you're eating supper or watching the one television program you like?

Please, do not let them repeal this as it is a question of individual's privacy. Thank you. Jeanne Spaulding